Leader Meets Archbishop of Canterbury

The Leader of the Revolution met on Thursday the Archbishop of Canterbury of England Rowan Williams in Tripoli who expressed his gratitude for the respect and freedom that are enjoyed by all Christians living in Libya.

During the meeting, the Leader explained to the Archbishop the principles of the Islam that encompasses all other heavenly religions. He stressed that Islam is the religion of humanity and that Abraham, Moses, Jesus and Mohamed are all Muslims.

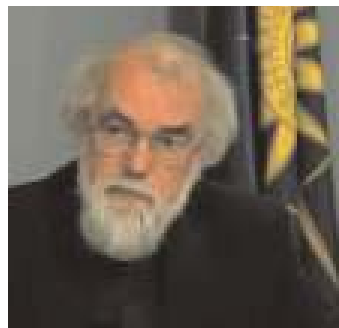

Williams told the Leader that he closely follows the dialogue between Muslims and Christians that is based on mutual respect and cooperation.

The Leader called on religious leaders around the world to do their duty by making people aware to live in peace and security. That there should be no aggression on churches or mosques and there should be no discrimination between peoples.

The meeting was attended by the British ambassador to Tripoli and the chairman of the World Islamic Call Society Mr. Mohammed Sharif.

Archbishop Williams have always supported humanitarian objectives and defended peace around the world. He has supported the Palestinians and called for justice for them.

Erdogan: Israel Committed Barbarian Action in Gaza

Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan has stalked off the stage at the World Economic Forum, red-faced after verbally sparring with Israeli President Shimon Peres over the fighting in Gaza.

Erdogan was angry after being cut off by a panel moderator after listening to an impassioned monologue by Peres defending Israel's recent offensive against Hamas in the
